Avoid information overload in 2026

Try our Information Overload Calculator

Too much content, too many channels, not enough clarity. Sound familiar?

Make 2026 the year to address information overload. In just five easy steps, SWOOP Analytics can help you identify how much time it would take employees to read internal communications each week, what that could be costing your organisation and whether you're getting value for money.

We've also published a free guide to help you understand the root causes of information overload, and provide practical, data-driven strategies to manage it.
